

Iron County Register

Entered in the Postoffice at Ironton, Mo., as second class matter.

E. D. AKE, : : : : : EDITOR.

VOLUME XXIX. : : : : : NUMBER 1.

IRONTON, MO.
THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1895.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

'Tis the day we celebrate!
Ironton's celebration of the 4th will be strictly private.

Mrs. Lindsay offers first class board to tourists and transients at reduced prices.

Several communications are, by force of circumstance, laid over until next week. But all shall have a hearing at last.

C. B. Hill was released on bond last Thursday by Judge Green. The bondsmen are: J. S. Benson, Fritz Warneke, J. A. Kite, H. M. Collins, Jno. Blumel, Mrs. Schmitz and Clara Grandhomme—and perhaps others.

Ferd. Immer, Jr., of Middlebrook, insane, was taken charge of by Sheriff O'Neal yesterday in response to the request of the boy's parents. A legal inquiry as to his mental condition will be immediately made.

Bro. Goodykoontz will please pardon our not publishing his letter this week. It came too late for last issue and was filed to be printed this week, but was overlooked until now as we go to press. It will appear next week.

About ten days ago, a horse driven by H. N. Baird went through the culvert on Reynolds street, just east of the Register office, sustaining severe injuries. A suit for damages may result to the city in consequence.

Our neighbors of Annapolis will have a big time in honor of the glorious Fourth, and a number of Irontonians will assist them in its celebration. The people down there know how to entertain a crowd, and we promise all who attend a good time.

The Christian people of the town and vicinity are cordially invited to worship with the Baptist Church of Ironton, while their pulpits are not supplied. Those not connected with any church are cordially invited to worship with us, at any time. H. T. McKoon, Pastor.

A new time-card went into effect last Sunday. Several important changes were made, though there is little change in the time of arrivals and departures. None of the night trains going north stop here, but the Memphis Express going south may be flagged. The fast mail train, north, passes here at 6:45 p. m.

In mentioning the return of Mr. Fred. Cureton from the Normal last week, we neglected to state that he came back a graduate of that institution. We learn that he has secured a school at Millersville, Cape Girardeau county, and will teach there the coming year. May success attend him—and the Register believes it will.

Rev. Geo. H. Duty, Pastor of the Ironton Presbyterian church, with his family, left yesterday morning for a six weeks' vacation. They go to Montrose, Iowa, their old home, and we doubt not, will have a most pleasant time. Their premises here, in the meantime, will wear a desolate air—except, of course, the poultry-yard.

Gentle Goddess of Liberty,
I drink to thee!
And in fond humility
Bend the pregnant hinges of the knee
In worship at thy shrine!
No foreign despot's host
Binds the boundless West!
By anointed tyrants supported,
Fair Freedom crowns the eagle's nest,
In this sweet land of mine!

Perkins, the photographer, left for Annapolis yesterday, intending to take in the celebration there to-morrow. He took with him a full photographic outfit, and will probably remain in our neighboring town and vicinity several days. We commend him to all as an excellent artist who will render perfect satisfaction to all who desire counterfeited presentments of the human form divine.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Iron county met pursuant to notice last Saturday and unanimously requested the State Committee to call a convention that the party might suitably express its policy on the financial question. A resolution favoring the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 was also adopted without dissent. The action of the committee was duly forwarded to Chairman Maflitt.

The good people of Bellevue will give a grand barbecue and picnic on Saturday, July 20th, to which they invite all their friends and neighbors, near and far. A barbecue in Bellevue means a mighty pleasant time for all who participate, and we have no doubt in this instance the attendance will be large. We know the get-togethers of the affair will deserve such attendance. Go, if you want to have a good time.

List of letters remaining in the Post-Office at Ironton, Mo., for the month ending June 30, 1895. If not called for within thirty days, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office:
Anderson A G Hill J G
Barton E Miss Kolliving Aug
Casey W A Miss Maple H G
Casey W Mrs Meyers Charles
Haywood D Mrs Propst John
Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of this list. A. P. VANCE, P. M.

The following rates and arrangements will govern the sale of tickets from points on the Missouri Pacific System, for Fourth of July. Tickets will be sold from all stations to points not more than two hundred miles distant, except that no excursion tickets will be sold between points on Missouri Pacific Railway and stations on the St. L. I. M. & S. R. V. The rate will be one lowest regular standard first class fare for the round trip. No tickets will be sold at a less rate than fifty cents. They will be sold July 3d and 4th, with limit for return of July 5th.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Backhoff, Ironton, Mo., Sunday, June 30, 1895, at 6 o'clock A. M., a son. All are well.

The REGISTER does itself proud in recording the several presents of fine fruit received from good friends during the week. First, Mrs. Kaesemacher brought a sample of peaches of her raising—the fruit temptingly hanging to the parent branch. Then Mr. W. L. Brown and Thos. Beard each sent us a round dozen of fine, large peaches of luscious flavor, and finally, Mr. Geo. W. Craine, Supt. St. Louis Ore and Steel Co., presented us with a basket of the same fruit, tempting alike to the mouth and nose—for the fragrance of the peaches perfumed the sanctum and gave promise of enjoyment to the palate. All these samples were grown in the respective gardens of the donors. The editor with pleasure records his obligations to them one and all.

Judge Green held an adjourned term of circuit court here last Thursday, to adjudge one of the many points in the famous Hawk railroad case. The rendering of his decision had been deferred to await the action of the Supreme Court, but as the recent decision of that tribunal seems to be inadequate, or wrapped in some legal mystification, Judge Green once more deferred action until the superior court is again and more definitely heard from. If the curious reader desires to get at all the outs and ins of the case, expressed with legal exactitude, he must consult the records. It bids fair to rival in sinuosity and volume the celebrated case of Peebles v. Plainstains. But we hope Bro. Hogue will come out of it in better plight than did Poor Peter.

Following is a list of teachers attending the late institute: J. B. Daniels, Centerville; W. I. Bays, Tolu; E. R. Moore, Greeley; J. Q. Adams, Goodland; C. E. Whitworth, Ironton; L. W. Cureton, Red Point; C. H. Jones, Brunot; C. J. Russell, Brunot; A. O. O'Bannon, Brunot; C. L. Collins, Salsburg; F. M. Markham, Ironton; C. G. Whitworth, Ironton; A. W. Prince, Ironton; L. O. Warren, Bellevue; Nannie M. Ringo, Arcadia; Maude Fletcher, Arcadia; Alma Fletcher, Arcadia; Mittie Reagan, Ironton; LaVerta Hackworth, Des Arc; Maggie Johnson, Stono; Nellie Johnson, Ironton; Katie Reel, Ironton; Vida Fitzpatrick, Graniteville; Josie Olson, Graniteville; James Hawkins, Bellevue; J. M. Hawkins, Bellevue; Laura Thompson, Bellevue; R. M. Hunter, Middlebrook; W. M. Johnson, Roselle; Dora VanNort, Bellevue; R. E. Atkinson, Bellevue; May E. Lester, Hale; Edith J. Strong, Ironton; Lola A. Whitener, Gravelton; C. C. Wilson, Bismarck; Arnoldus Turner, Hartsville; W. T. Westmoreland, Patterson; John T. Patterson, Clones; R. S. Lucy, Brunot; Laura Townsend, Fredericktown; Mattie Ferguson, Gravelton; Laura Dutton, Bellevue; Theresa White, Annapolis. The grades made were very satisfactory, and two teachers granted first-class certificates, viz: J. B. Daniels and John T. Patterson. School Commissioner Hickman's address, until further notice, is Brunot.

We were unable to attend the Eighteenth Annual Commencement of the Arcadia College on the 19th of June, and were disappointed at not receiving a report thereof. Consequently no fitting mention could be made of the exercises, nor can we do so now, for lack of data. But those who attended say the programme on that day was creditable alike to the good Sisters who conduct the school and to the pupils attending. An historical drama in five acts, entitled, "Mary, Queen of Scots," was the leading feature of the entertainment, and was excellently rendered. For the reason above given, we cannot make particular mention of the proceedings that day, but a friend sends us a more extended account of the exercises of the Day School on the 21st. The "Country Aunt," a play in two acts, was the principal feature of the programme, with the following cast of characters:
Aunt Peabody—L. Left.
Eleanor and Hattie, her nieces—M. Baldwin and M. Paule.
Miriam Brown, a friend of the sisters—R. Van Dorn.
The remainder of the programme was as follows:
Music—Miss C. Ottenad.
The Will and the Way—Chorus.
My Neighbor's Call—M. Baldwin.
Simple Simon—A. Blumel, J. Robertson, F. Schach, H. Fuchs.
Lorens—M. Paule.
What's This?—Chorus.
They Say (Poem)—J. Van Dorn.
Magic Spell Waltz—G. Mangold.
Mr. Nobody (Poem)—A. Blumel.
To and Fro—Chorus.
Our Dog—J. Baldwin.
The School Girl's Troubles—G. Mangold, J. Van Dorn, M. Left.
The Little Helpers—E. Robertson, M. Search, E. Fuchs and L. Paule.
The Weight of a Word—R. Van Dorn.
Beatitudes of the Gospels—The Misses Paule.
Farmer John—C. Left.
The Shoemakers—Juniors.
The William Goat—G. Baldwin.
Day Dreams—J. Paule.
The Robin's Return—M. Paule.
The Speckled Hen—M. Left.
Freddy Quickstep—M. Baldwin.
The Shape of the Earth—J. Schach.
Music—Miss C. Ottenad, C. Left and J. Baldwin.
Kate Shelly—L. Left.
Clara Polka—G. Mangold and M. Baldwin.
Lucy Gray (Poem)—J. Paule.
Song—Gertie Mangold.
Pussy Learning to Read—L. Paule.
The Brave Little Maid—G. Mangold.
Mary, Queen of Scots—M. Paule.
The Brook—Chorus.
Music—Miss C. Ottenad.
Epilogue.

All the little folks did themselves credit, and the various essays, songs, etc., were rendered remarkably well. Our correspondent makes favorable mention of Master Andrew Blumel and Misses Julia and Myrtle Paule—the latter being presented with a lovely gold medal by Mother Blanche, her teacher. The exercises closed with the distribution of premiums.
"We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Bricefield, Cal. "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best." For sale by all dealers.

Twenty-Eight Years.

On the 6th of July, 1867, the first number of the IRON COUNTY REGISTER was printed and issued.

The plant was owned and the paper edited by Messrs. Essex & Winfield, while the mechanical department was conducted by the present owner and publisher, and every succeeding issue to this date has been made under his direction. Twenty-eight years! Fourteen hundred and fifty-six weeks! A pretty large slice out of the metes and bounds of any man's life. At the beginning the "plant" consisted of four cases of long primer, two cases of brevier, perhaps twenty fonts of display type, a Washington hand-press, rules, leads, chases, etc. No job-type, no job-press, and of course no paper cutters, except a shoemaker's knife wrenched from its original purpose.

Now the office comprises an outfit for job and newspaper work that is not inferior, we think, to any in South-east Missouri. Materially (no pun intended) the world has prospered with us fairly well. But what account have we rendered of the time and opportunity granted us?

For the first two years of its being, the editorial control of the REGISTER was not with us, and for that period we can have no credit for its merits nor blame for its shortcomings. But in the fall of 1869 we assumed full control in every department. At that time the two newspapers in fight for a Democratic newspaper. But if it had the courage of its convictions its way was not all in darkness. Friends true and tried and never faltering rallied to its support, and an abiding faith in the ultimate triumph of Democratic principles gave hope when the paper-bill was overdue and the scoop rasped the bottom of the flour barrel. In accordance with the old proverb, day was at hand when the night was darkest, and the ideas of November, 1870, saw the State of Missouri redeemed from her Radical captivity. Then the Democratic rooster began to lose some of his leanness, and he found the cutting of sheriff's sales quite congenial to his constitution. If he scratched hard, he prospered in a modest way, and Saturday evening was shorn of its wonted terrors. In a "worldly sense," as the preacher put it, the REGISTER has, as the boys put it, "no kick coming." But what of its work in the greater sense—in its relation to the public?

Its sphere is of course narrowly circumscribed. If ever a country newspaper set the Mississippi river afire, we have not heard of it—not even of those favored ones which line its shores and have the advantage of cheap transportation. The statement may seem incredible, yet it is a fact that there are several people in the United States who have never heard of the REGISTER! But the reader will bear in mind that illiteracy is not yet wholly abolished, and this will help him make his way clear to give full credence to the assertion. Speaking of spheres, and all that, and thinking incidentally of the relation our big city brethren bear to us little fellows of the country, reminds us of the large and small guns of an army in action. The big cannons make a loud noise, are heard a long way off, and their screeching shells are shocking to the nervous system; but who shall say that the rattle of musketry is soothing to the ear, or the "whing!" of the minnie-ball a laughing matter? In fact, the latter decides the battle ten times to the other's once.

Seriously, during these twenty-eight years we've tried to do our best in our small way. That this "best" has often been poor enough, none will more readily admit than the writer. To his errors he pleads good intent; to his failures, his fullest efforts; and to his few successes, the help of kind friends who have borne with his weaknesses and condoned his faults. His virtues, if he have any, he leaves to the consideration of his enemies.

Blood-purifiers, though gradual, are radical in their effect. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is intended as a medicine only and not a stimulant, excitant, or beverage. Immediate results may not always follow its use; but after a reasonable time, permanent benefit is certain to be realized.

Arcadia Items.

Mrs. Muse of Harvill is visiting relatives. Conductor Baird was home Friday night.

Rev. England and wife have returned from Steelville.

Rev. Hurley preached at Fort Hill Church last Sunday.

Messrs. Miller and Evans started for Doniphan on business Sunday.

Conductor Andrews brought the excursion down last week.

Mrs. Barnette of Piedmont attended the Convent exercises.

Miss Lillian Pike of St. Louis was in Arcadia several days last week.

O. H. Baird's fine horse, Tam O'Shanter, went through a bridge in Ironton a few weeks ago, and is still suffering the consequences.

Among the many who came down on the excursion last week were: Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Steinman, Sel. Tual, Mrs. McLean and Foster, Van Lear and brother.

Mrs. Wood, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. DeMier and her friend, Mrs. West, returned to St. Louis Thursday, after spending a very pleasant week.

Miss Baird attended the Music Teachers Convention in St. Louis this week.

Col. Swift and family came down from the city Thursday to spend the summer in Arcadia.

John Green, wife and little daughter, of St. Louis, spent several days of last week with relatives.

A large crowd attended the Convent Commencement, and report a good time.

Grandpa Evans was called home to his wife Sunday, who died suddenly in Steelville.

A party was given at Mrs. Polk's recently, in honor of Mr. Al. Squire and friend of Chicago. Everyone had a good time, although the night was dark and rainy. There was also a party at DeMier's and one at Nations' last week. Both were enjoyed exceedingly—especially by the young people.

Our friend, Jim Dixon, had quite a mishap: A few weeks ago he went out by the Newman place to feed his hogs, which he keeps in a pen. In some way or other he was knocked down by the pigs and trampled in the mud till he was almost past walking home. We are glad to say he is around again. JEROME.

Pilot Knob Items.

Mr. Steffens' family have moved to Graniteville.

Miss Alma Jaquith and Miss Katie Crane have gone to Denver, Colorado. Mr. Chas. Backoff is home visiting his parents.

Mr. Joe. Immer is visiting friends in Pilot Knob.

Misses Mary and Delia Hanlan of St. Louis are visiting their sister, Mrs. F. I. Killalee.

Mr. William Efinger of St. Louis is home.

What is the attraction in Pilot Knob for the young gentlemen of Bismarck?

Mr. Robert Moody spent Sunday with his best girl.

The party last Thursday evening given by Miss Mary Killalee, in honor of Miss Delia Hanlan, proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. GUESS WHO.

Annapolis News.

Ed. Register—A stranger who went to sleep in a box-car on the sidetrack here Monday is said to have had his hat stolen.

J. B. Wiseman of Bismarck was down here Monday, on a prospecting tour.

A civil suit, wherein Dr. Toney of Piedmont and Mr. Grimes of this place were the parties, was tried in Squire Kitchell's court Monday. Josh. Cart of Piedmont represented the plaintiff, and John Crowley of Des Arc the defendant. The suit was brought to recover a doctor's bill.

Wm. George of Centerville unloaded a new threshing machine from the cars Tuesday.

T. P. Rixey, Grand Lecturer I. O. O. F., was here Wednesday night and delivered a public lecture on Odd-Fellowship. The lecture was a beautiful and touching one, and met with universal approbation.

This morning at about 3:40, first train No. 87 ran over and horribly mangled Guilt Lucy at Jordan. Guilt accompanied Geo. Brewer to Ironton to secure a marriage license for the latter, and the two were on their return. At Jordan they both sat down on the track and fell asleep. Brewer barely escaped, and Lucy was run over.

His left leg was severed below the knee, and the right arm almost severed at the shoulder. He died shortly after reaching Annapolis, where he was brought by 87's crew.

Robt. Woody, Jr., is in town from St. Louis, visiting his father.

Squire Kitchell has some fine peaches that grew on his farm near this place.

Miss Laura Townsend, our new school teacher for the primary department, was in town Saturday, signing up the necessary contract. CHX.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by Mrs. P. R. Crisp, Druggist.

From Graniteville.

Ed. Register—Old lady Ruple departed this life on Friday evening last, of consumption, aged about 60 years, after a long suffering. Deceased leaves two sons and one little daughter to mourn her loss. The remains were laid at rest in the Middlebrook Cemetery last following day.

George Donald left yesterday to join Mrs. Donald, who has been in St. Louis for a couple of weeks, whence they will depart for Scotland, their native land. In the art and workmanship of granite Mr. Donald has few equals; as a gentleman in every particular none can question his standing; upright in all his dealings with his fellow craftsmen and employer alike. His loss to the S. G. Company, for whom he has been working for eight or nine years, will be materially felt and difficult to replace. Mr. Donald, we understand, will quit stone-cutting and will engage in some sort of business in the city of Aberdeen, Scotland. May health and success attend them, is the wish of their many friends of this and other communities.

James McLeod and Wm. Hume left Saturday last for Minneapolis. During the past ten days several men have left this place for other quarters in quest of work, though their leaving was not necessarily occasioned from lack of work.

Miss Josie Oelson came out to spend Sunday with home folks.

Miss Lillie Newall of Cornville, Iowa, arrived here yesterday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. David Archie, Jr.

Miss Newall speaks in high terms of their new Iowa home, giving a glowing description of the general health and the outlook for crops throughout the prairie country adjacent to their home.

Mr. Newton, our photographer, reports business good since he came here, but as he only intends remaining this week he desires those wishing work done in his line to hustle up.

Sixty-three visitors, all hailing from St. Louis, registered their names in the famous "Log Cabin" at Mr. E. M. Smith's last week.

A large number of people were disappointed on not hearing Rev. Mr. Morton of Ironton, who was to preach at Workman's Hall last Sunday. It is presumed that the reason of his not appearing was unavoidable. The people, however, were not wholly dis-

Mr. J. D. Greason is still engaged in Poplar Bluff on business.

Mr. E. M. Smith has been confined pretty closely to his house for a week past, wrestling with a crippled leg, occasioned from a fall, though he is recovering slowly at this writing.

Some little complaints among a few of the children in town from trivial causes; nothing serious, however, and the state of health generally good.

Wm. Schneider is at present in New Orleans, looking after the setting of a granite job their company has just completed.

Mrs. Hannah had just completed a cistern in time to catch some of the recent and timely rainfall.

The silver question seems to be the principal or all-absorbing topic in political circles throughout the country, except, perhaps, in the extreme eastern part. But the east has about run its course in the way of dictating to the people of this country. Give us free and untrammelled coinage of silver at any ratio that will insure sound and stable money of both metals on a parity with each other—good for all debts, public and private. If such legislation proves beneficial, all well and good; if not, the law can be repealed in a very short time. At any rate, give the matter a test. It was predicted by the high protective barons that the Wilson bill would ruin the country. Has it done it? Not most emphatically. A test has been made, the result of which is being beneficially demonstrated even in the greatest manufacturing districts of the east, evidenced by the increase of wages, ranging from 8 to 15 per cent. Yet they said the Wilson bill would be ruinous to the masses of the people, who are composed principally of the poorer or common people. So give us plenty of free silver coupled with the Wilson bill, and prosperity will crown our efforts. CAR.
